Parents and children we have helped

"I have learnt to speak. Before this I wasn't very good at speaking to other people, but now I feel confident."

"I have learnt how to control and express my emotions much better."

"I can attend groups by myself and not just wait outside the door. I can speak up for how I feel and do not keep as much inside as I used to. I am beginning to trust people and I am believing in myself."

"Being taught parenting skills for both of us has been a blessing and just letting our son have a voice, makes him feel involved and valued as a person."

Our services are available to children and families of all faiths and none, our sole aim is to help those in greatest need.

The children and families we support face difficult situations due to domestic abuse, parental conflict, mental health, emotional well-being issues, social isolation or the challenges caused by loss of income, and the cost of living crisis.

- Group work programmes for parents including Strengthening Families Strengthening Communities
- Caring Dads – a group intervention programme to help fathers improve their relationship with their children
- MySpace - our accredited domestic abuse treatment and recovery group for children and their non-abusing parent
- Helping families access emergency and grant funding to provide immediate support
